

Who's involved in the National Skills Academy for Railway Engineering?

The National Skills Academy for Railway Engineering (the Skills Academy) is an employer-led, industry owned organisation, commercially driven in the best interests of the railway industry.

Railway Engineering includes the design, build, replacement and maintenance of all aspects of the railway infrastructure including track, signalling and telecoms systems and electrification together with the traction and rolling stock that runs on it.

NSARE Limited is a "not for profit" company limited by guarantee. It has an impressive Board of Directors representing all sections of the Industry elected by the Members of the company.

The Board of the Skills Academy

Name	Position	Also Representing
Terry Morgan	Chairman, Crossrail	Chairman, NSARE Limited
Arith Liyanage	MD, Carillion Rail	National Rail Contractors Group
Colin Walton	Chairman Bombardier UK
David Waboso	Director Capital Projects, LUL	Transport for London
Jeremy Candfield	Director General, Rail Industry Association
John Hawkins	Technical Director, First Group	Association of Train Operating Companies (ATOC) Engineering Council
John Stansfeld	Transportation Director, Lloyds Register
Pino De Rosa	MD, Bridgeway Consulting	Railway Industry Contractors Association
Rob Brook	MD, VTG Rail UK	Rail Freight
Simon Jamieson	MD, Rail Tech Group	SMEs
Stephen Tetlow	Chief Executive, IMechE	Engineering Institutions
Steve Yianni	Engineering Director, Network Rail
Gil Howarth	Chief Executive, National Skills Academy for Railway Engineering	Company Secretary NSARE Limited

Supporting Organisations include:

- Department for Transport
- Network Rail
- Transport for London (LUL, Overground & Crossrail)
- Railway Industry Association
- ATOC & Train Operating Companies
- Rail Freight Group
- Sector Skills Councils: GoSkills & SEMTA
- Railway Engineers Forum (Engineering Institutions)
- The Lloyd's Register Educational Trust
- Office of Rail Regulation
- RSSB
- National Rail Contractors Group
- Railway Industry Contractors Association
- Derby & Derbyshire Rail Forum
- Rail Alliance
- Association of Railway Training Providers
- TUC and Trade Unions
- Skills Funding Agency & National Apprenticeship Service

In addition more than 100 individual companies have expressed support for the Skills Academy during their development.

“Our mission is to transform the education and training capability and capacity of public and private sector training provision, to ensure that the current and future needs of the employers are met; and the requirements and aspirations of their employees are fulfilled. The underlying objective is that every engineer working in the railway industry will have demonstrable competencies, where appropriate, achieved through accredited training provision”

Gil Howarth, Chief Executive of the National Skills Academy for Railway Engineering

If you would like to know more about the Skills Academy please visit our website:

www.nsare.org or contact enquires@nsare.org